

CRETONX Building Materials Ltd

Bedford MK40 1SL

CRETONX is a manufacturer and supplier of materials and components used in industrial concrete flooring systems. The company provides products for concrete reinforcement, joint protection, load transfer, floor finishing, and concrete repair applications.

Its main product range includes steel fibers, armored joints, diamond dowels, expansion joints, joint sealants, concrete finishing enhancement agents, interface agents, concrete sealers, and related flooring accessories.

CRETONX products are used in warehouses, logistics centers, manufacturing facilities, industrial buildings, commercial developments, and other heavy-duty concrete floor projects. The company also provides OEM and ODM services for international distributors, contractors, and construction-material suppliers.

The company focuses on providing integrated solutions for improving the durability, crack resistance, joint performance, and service life of industrial concrete floors.

Visit Website